re:code LA Update

Completion and Implementation of first re:code LA Deliverable, and more!

We hope this email finds you well. The re:code LA team has been hard at work developing new planning tools for the City of Los Angeles.

Our first major deliverable, known as the R-1 Variation Zones, has been completed and implemented in several communities. Our team is working diligently on a new Administration section to our Zoning Code, along with new zoning options to support several community planning efforts. Last, but not least, the recode.la website is sporting a new look after undergoing a website refresh.

re:code LA is a five-year initiative that will provide the first comprehensive update of the Zoning Code since 1946. This initiative will create a modernized and accessible zoning code for the City of Los Angeles. The project aims to establish a new code with clear, predictable language. It will offer a wider variety of zoning options and community planning tools to better address neighborhood concerns and improve the quality of life in every community.
